Notice.

THE producers of Anthracite Coal seem to have adopted the theory that their product is something you must have and have placed a cold weather price on their commodity in midsummer. We are now receiving our stock of Anthracite from the Wilkesbarre region, the best in the market and selling your orders at current prices. No chronic are given away with this coal, neither do we make any extravagant promises as to the latent energy (heat) which it contains. We simply offer it on a business basis. It is the big guns in the business because, hard coal is something you must have regardless of price, we are ready and even anxious to supply you. As the amusement man in the circus would say, "We are here for that purpose."

ST. JOSEPH.

THE HISTORIC BIRCH

How It Has Flourished in the Hands of Muscular School Ma'ams
for Many Years.

PROGRESS OF "BOOK LARNIN."

The Advancement and Prosperity of St. Joseph's City Schools
During a Half Century.

In days of old when the main product of St. Joseph was Indians and the main occupation of the settlers was that of killing off the product, the matter of education received but little attention. There were few children at that time and into them principles were pounded by personal application. The principle in geometry which teaches how to strike a circle they used only when they cut a circle on top of a man's head and removed his scalp. The time-honored axiom, "things equal to the same thing are equal to each other," was then demonstrated to mean that a small man with a bowie-knife was equal to a big man with a bowie-knife. And as in those days a man was equal to most anything the import of the axiom found its fulfillment and that even before "book larnin" was thought of.

The principle of physiology that there is a large quantity of dirt in a man's composition was in those days fully exemplified. They had a little use for arithmetic. The medium of exchange was coin skins and wh. Brown owed Smith three coin skins Smith would cut three notches in a stick and then would send a face-simile of the stick to Brown on the first day of every month. If Brown was bigger than Smith, or owned a shooting iron, all Smith would get out of the deal would be the stick with the three notches in it. The standard of computation was established by the man who could shoot the straightest. If he said three times two equal seven it would equal seven until someone who could shoot straighter struck the settlement.

But this sort of thing could not go on forever. One by one the women came to the little settlement and of course the children had to be educated. They picked out a spot away back in the woods, near the present location of the Catholic church, and erected a log hut. The hut stood until two or three years ago on Ship street, between Court and Church streets, and was then the oldest building in the city. It was a small affair but plenty large enough to accommodate the handful of pupils. The school in those days was a rather slow sort. It was before the historic tack was invented to place an evil idea in the head of the festive youngster. They didn't crook up pins and fasten them in the teacher's chair. They didn't throw coals or draw the teachers picture on the blackboard for the simple reason that all of these conveniences and commodities for scholastic pastime were as yet unvented. It remained to a later generation, our fathers, to do what our grandfathers couldn't in that line, and a good deal more. It remained to the later generation for the big boy in the back seat to shove a daring needle into the little boy in the front seat and see the little boy get cuffed for yelling. The boys of that generation took turns licking the man teacher. When the balmy days of spring arrived and the spirit of freedom permeated the souls of the book learners, then the biggest boy in the school would thrash the teacher and lay him up so that school would be dismissed for a week or two.

The little log hut grew too small for the school and a grander building was erected. It was then considered a masterpiece of modern architecture and now stands in all of its original magnificence at the corner of Ship and Main streets, although sad to say, it has degenerated into the meeting place of second ward politicians and the rendezvous of voters and Australian ballots on election day. That magnificent building also grew too small in its turn and was abandoned for a big wooden structure which was erected on the site of the present Main street building. It was a big double structure and the school was divided into three departments, primary, intermediate and high school. Many of the ladies now prominent in our literary societies wielded the birch over the backs of belligerent pupils in those days. Among them were Mesdames Montgomery Shepard, R. D. Parker, John Langley and C. H. Moulton. A professor named Aldrich was "prof" then, and many of our business men remember that he had a strong arm and, to their discomfiture, a stout leather strap. This was late in the sixties and in the seventies it became necessary to have another school house. So the big double building was out in two. The city took half of it, moved it down to the corner of Broad and Main streets where it yet serves as a city hall. The other half was moved to the corner of Main and Market streets, is used as a tenement house and is owned by Dr. R. D. Parker. The big union school building was then built and stands today, one of the very finest school buildings in southwestern Michigan. In 1890 the Wayne street building was built and is also a very fine edifice. The attendance is growing so rapidly that another building will soon be required. St. Joseph is the banner city in the county according to the school census. About the character of the work the Journal needs to say little as it is too well known and has been treated upon before in these columns. Suffice it to say that the St. Joseph schools are not excelled in Michigan.

GOLD DEMOCRATS.

They Are Asserting Themselves in
St. Joseph.

There are a great many more sound money democrats in St. Joseph than some people imagine and as the election draws near they take their stand for sound money with no uncertain sound. Many of St. Joseph's most influential business men are sound money democrats. They are taking a great interest in the demonstration which will be made at Benton Harbor tomorrow night and will probably attend in large numbers.

ARE NOT THE SAME.

Benton Harbor Citizens Are Given
Monday to Register.

The days for registration are not the same in St. Joseph and Benton Harbor, a fact which St. Joseph voters should bear in mind. The boards of registration adjourn in this city Saturday evening while in Benton Harbor the voters are given until Monday night to register. This information is given out for the benefit of the St. Joseph electors so that a confusion of the registration days will not result in the loss of any privileges to vote. The St. Joseph boards of registration will be in session today, tomorrow and Saturday.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS.

Are Taking Place at the Vandalla
Railroad Dock.

The Vandalla company is making many substantial improvements on their dock property at the foot of State street. The railroad office has been painted inside throughout and some new furniture added. New and attractive signs have been put up about the place to designate the various rooms to the travelling public.

A new smoking room of roomy dimensions has been fitted up and will afford the smoking public a convenience hitherto unknown at that depot. The room has been furnished and painted throughout and made quite attractive. It will also be used as a lunch room in the winter by the hordes of men who work on the dock and have heretofore been obliged to eat out in the cold.

WHILE INTOXICATED

Railroad Track.

NILES, Oct. 29.—The body of Henry Knott, a german resident, was found on the Big Four tracks Tuesday with the skull crushed in. STARTED A "FRACAS"

"Silverites" Tried to Break Up a Republican Parade.

BUCHANAN, Oct. 29.—Monday evening the Republicans had a pole raising and the silver people a meeting at the opera house addressed by Attorney Tabor of Van Buren county. At the conclusion of the pole raising the Republican marching clubs started back to their headquarters, and some of the silver crowd from Niles, who had been drinking, undertook to break up the parade, but did not succeed. A man named Albright, who appeared to be a leader in the fracas, was arrested, and in the "mix-up" that occurred several persons were quite severely used up.

John Jeffery Lays Claim to 80 Acres in the Heart of Mt. Pleasant.

ITHACA, Oct. 29.—One of the greatest sensations of the year was sprung upon the residents of the town this morning. John Jeffery, a local shoe man and real estate dealer, through his attorney, has laid claim to 80 acres of land in the heart of the city of Mt. Pleasant, on which is situated the central normal school and about 50 of the finest residences in the city.

He Saved One Life.

IONIA, Oct. 29.—Robert Patterson, a stone mason, lost his life last evening just east of this city. In company with John Strong, a mule, he was returning from work, walking on the ties of the railroad track. They stepped to one side to allow a train to pass. The train was followed by a hand car and Strong stepped on the track in front of the car. Patterson, seeing his danger, jumped forward and pushed him off the track, but was himself caught and horribly crushed. He lived four hours.

Jim Is a Hard Case.

ANN ARBOR, Oct. 29.—Jimmy Blithman, aged 15, Ann Arbor's boy criminal, tried to break jail this morning. When discovered he had cut half through the jail wall with a case knife. On a charge of till tapping he was this morning bound over to the circuit court. Though a mere child, he has been sent to the reform school four times, and has been arrested 13 times on charges ranging from sneak thieving to burglary and safe blowing.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1908.

ONLY three days more to talk politics.
When the Palladium says that THE EVENING NEWS offered to sell its influence to the free silver party or any other party for $200 or any other amount it simply lies.

AFTER Editor Gilson wears out so much shoe leather stumping for McKinley how awful it would be if some more popular and reasonable republican like Lou Vincent would get the postoffice.

THE most significant of all the motives to be displayed at the Sound Money Democratic meeting in this city tomorrow night will read: "The Supreme Court of Michigan has declared that we are the Democrats."

THE burning question among street orators is no longer gold or silver but how much money it will cost the St. Joseph Valley road to fill the sink hole in the bottom of Ox creek. An audience of over 100 people is constantly watching the performance.

THE poor Palladium, whose very life appears to depend upon the election of McKinley and Editor Gilson getting the postoffice, has had another attack of hysterics and has discovered that THE EVENING NEWS is not truly an independent paper. THE NEWS has been "bought up" not to say that all silver men are "anarchists." Any paper which is as partisan as that surely has received some of the bundle of the silver mine owners. Have the gods marked the editor of the Palladium for destruction? They surely have made him mad.

THE clippings the Palladium makes from THE EVENING NEWS to prove that the paper is favoring free silver are about as fair as the Palladium ever is. The clippings were made from the democratic arguments printed Tuesday, while yesterday there were hot or hotter republican arguments in the column where the democratic matter appeared the preceding day. All of our readers except a few thickskulls are aware that two columns on the editorial page are one day devoted to the gold side of the question and the next to silver. The matter is furnished in plate form by the national committees and all reasonable people find enjoyment and satisfaction in reading and comparing both sides.

BISHOP MCGOVERN

OF Pittsburgh Advances Sound Strong Arguments in Favor of Silver.
The Harrisburg Patriot publishes an interview with Mr. Rev. Thomas McGovern, bishop of the diocese of Harrisburg, Pa., in which he says in part: "I am in favor of honest money. Now, what I want to know is, what is honest money? We may have gold, paper bonds and promises to pay, but all pass as honest money. There is not enough of gold in the world to pay its indebtedness. The United States government could not pay its indebtedness in gold because it has not got it. She gives us treasury notes or bonds, and these are to be paid in honest money, one paper usually exchanged for another."
"What about silver?" asked the reporter.
"Silver is surely as good as paper, and 50 per cent. better. If the government pays her indebtedness in silver she is paying it in a better currency than in paper. All nations would be bankrupt today if they were asked to pay their indebtedness in gold. Can we not take silver the same as we are taking paper money? Silver will, at least, increase the volume of circulation which is now in our country too limited to carry on business and makes rates too high."
"Money, after all, is only a commodity in the market," added Bishop McGovern, earnestly. "When it is scarce it rates high; when it is abundant it rates low. If we increase the circulation by the free coinage of silver we are employing a better substitute than paper because silver has an intrinsic value; paper has not. The opponents of the free coinage of silver assert that it will bankrupt us, but there is no more danger of our government becoming bankrupt by the free coinage of silver than there is by an extra issue of paper money and bonds."
"There is no danger of a general stampede being made on the United States treasury by the people or the creditors. This thing of preserving the credit of our nation is good sentiment, but our government discredited its own paper over its own counter during the civil war. The soldier was paid in paper money on the battlefield and the custom house duties were demanded in gold. We sold $1,000 bonds for $250 in gold and paid 6 per cent. interest in gold on the face value of them. To whose advantage is the gold standard? The Shylocks of Europe and the goldbugs of Wall street. And at whose loss? The tolling masses?"
"Do you believe the price of commodities would rise if we were to have free coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1, as declared for by the Chicago platform?"
"Some commodities would probably increase in price," was the bishop's answer, "but wages would also rise. Free coinage would also help our manufacturers because they would be better able to borrow money at fair rates. Every man would be employed and he would get his wages. When there are two employers after one man wages are bound to go up, and when there are two men after one less for a job you may be sure wages are going down."
"What right has Europe to dictate to us what kind of currency we ought to have? If they are not willing to take our currency, let them not buy our exports. But they are not going to lose our trade. They will accommodate themselves to the circumstances. That will be the end of it. Let us stop sliding scales, and go up and down just as Europeans want our trade."

Bishop McGovern said he believed the free coinage of silver would be a boon to the farmers in the west, who pay 10 to 15 per cent. interest on their mortgages. Many of these people have bought land for $5,000 on which they have paid $3,000. They are paying 10 to 15 per cent. on the mortgage of $2,000, which is now only the actual value of the property. The result is that in a short time the farmers will lose their property and be driven from their homes like the tenant farmers of Ireland, and lose all their money they have paid on it.

WHO ARE THE ANARCHISTS?
Republican Threats to Disrupt the Government of Mr. Bryan Should Win.
Edward Lauterbach, chairman of the Republican county committee of New York, said in a public speech, delivered a few days ago, that if Bryan and the Chicago platform should obtain a majority of the votes in the approaching election, "we will not abide by that decision." Lauterbach is not an irresponsible nobody to indulge in idle chatter. He is Boss Platt's right-hand man in New York, and was a delegate from the state at large, along with Platt, Depew and Warner Miller, to the national Republican convention which met at St. Louis and nominated McKinley. This is, therefore, a threat to overthrow the lawful result of an honest election, made by a responsible representative of the Republican party—the chairman of the Republican committee of the richest and most populous county in the United States.
Two nights later, Senator Palmer, the assistant Republican candidate for president, made the following declaration in a speech at Detroit: "For myself, I would prefer to live under a righteous monarchy rather than submit to such principles as those declared by the Chicago convention." If Bryan and his principles triumph, of which there is every indication, Senator Palmer will not go elsewhere to seek "a righteous monarchy" under which to live. He would find it more convenient to join Lauterbach in an attempt to establish one of that kind in this country.
On the very day on which Lauterbach declared his intention, under the foregoing mentioned, to overthrow the government, Dugald Crawford, a leading merchant of St. Louis and a large employer of labor, made a thorough and systematic search of his list of employees to find if any of them were in favor of free silver and intended to vote for Bryan. He found such, and summarily dismissed them—in violation of law and every principle of mankind.
These three occurrences are mere specimens of what is going on every day among the phantasmagoric supporters of McKinley and the gold standard. Who are the anarchists? The Chicago platform contains not even the suggestion of the violation of any law. The men who are opposing it so bitterly are not afraid the laws will not be enforced, if it should win, as Mr. Bryan has said. They are afraid the laws will be enforced.

Who are the anarchists?

THE MONEY-LENDER.

Who Attempts to Use His Mortgage to Intimidate American Citizens.
At Benton Harbor, Mich., on his recent tour through that state, Mr. Bryan spoke as follows on the subject of "the money-lender in this campaign."
"In the Humber Register, published in this city, I find the following: 'Yes, times are hard, but we are not in the deepest water yet. If silver wins this fall it will be one of the greatest disasters that ever befell the farmers. I have had for over ten years nearly $200,000 loaned in this country to farmers. In many instances payments have been met, but for a few years I have been compelled to extend the time, and I am willing to do so under our present financial basis; but if silver wins this fall I will do what every other man will do who has money out—demand immediate payment. I admit I may lose some of the interest, but I have at least three years to pay myself, and during that time I will close an entire mortgage.'"
"My friends," said Mr. Bryan, "I want to denounce the money-lender who attempts to use his mortgage to intimidate American citizens and say that that man does not deserve to live in a land where men are free and have a right to liberty. When you admit that it is necessary to go to the money-lender and obtain his consent before you can pass a law that you have passed from a democracy to a plutocracy, and liberty, as we have understood it, has fled from this nation, I want you to understand that these men, knowing that they cannot appeal to reason, attempt to appeal to force; these men, knowing that their arguments do not appeal to judgment, attempt to appeal to the fears of men. In this campaign, my friends, we have arrayed against us every enemy of society, and every man who seeks to make slaves of those with whom he deals. I am glad that they are not on my side. I am glad that I have not the support of a man who intends to force his mortgages if men do not vote as he wants them to. I would rather remain a humble private citizen than to hold the most exalted office in this land if I had to receive my commission from men who know as little about the genius of our institutions as the money-lender whose language I have quoted."

"History in all ages can be taught in vain to prove that the common people—the struggling masses—of any land had ever declared for a gold standard."—W. J. Bryan.

THIS FROM A NEW YORKER, TOO.
Mr. Thurber, the Greco King, Has a Word to Say.

Henry K. Thurber, of New York, is at the head of the largest grocery house in the world. He is a student of finance. He believes the people of this country are entitled to consideration in financial legislation.
Here is what he says:
"We say that gold is a monometallism can have but one effect, and that is to make the rich richer and the poor poorer; that we do not want the same state of things here that exists in Europe, and that gold monometallism will go very far to bring around that state of affairs."
"The single gold standard advocates, in order to succeed, must carry with them a large number of voters whose best interest is to have bimetalism, and hence the cry of 'no gold' and 'sound money' echoed and re-echoed in the papers controlled by the money classes."
"Friends, did you ever stop to think, first, that every man who is living on the interest of his money is in favor of a single standard of gold? And, second, that it is not because they love the masses of the people better than they do their own financial welfare?"
"I am and have been since the foundation of the party a Republican, and favor a protective tariff, but in this election shall do all I can to assist in the election of the Democratic nominee for president. I believe this country is in no condition at the present time to be forced onto a permanent gold basis."
"We all know that we have been passing through troublous times. I believe that the great reason is that we have been tending toward gold monometallism, that if this country votes for the free coinage of silver we will see an entirely different state of things come to pass; that our property will rise in value; that our products will bring more money; that the financial pall that gold monometallism has thrown over us so long will be immediately removed."

"I urge my friends to examine this subject, and if they believe as I believe to vote and work for the election of Bryan and Sewall."

IS HE AN ANARCHIST?
The Sole Survivor of the Sixteen Men Who Named the Republican Party.

At Marshall, Mich., during his recent tour through that state Mr. Bryan reversed the usual order of things and instead of making a speech himself merely introduced the speaker. He said:
"My friends, I am not going to have time to talk to you, but I simply want to make a little speech in the introduction of the famous anarchist who is going to speak after me, and go home to his place."
"Now, I want you to know who he gets up to talk to you to take a good look at him. He is a typical anarchist. You will probably see his picture in Harper's Weekly next week. His name is the Hon. Albert Williams, and he lives at Iona, Mich., and was introduced two years ago at Iona by Mr. McKinley as the only survivor of the sixteen who met and adopted the first national platform, and signed it with the name of the Republican party, on the 6th of July, 1854, under the oaks at Jackson. [Applause, and a voice, "I was there."] He must be an anarchist, because he is with us this year. [Laughter.] My friends, he is one of the many men who have found it necessary to either get out of the Republican party or surrender their country to the hands of foreigners, and he has naturally chosen to get out of the party."
Every regular state Democratic convention and every regular county Democratic convention held since the Chicago convention has indicated the nominees and the creed of the Democratic party.

Talk about wreckers! Carlisle's new financial policy is more dangerous than 10,000 dynamites marching on the treasury building.

V. A. LOWE says we don't know what politics are in this locality. At Paris,

Ill., his old home, "one man who was seen in the church of the Corsican

village of Siro is undoubtedly unique.

The inhabitants of this pretty little place are exceedingly devout and very simple, which probably accounts for the possession of such a remarkable collection. A writer in L'Independence Bel-gives the following list of the principal items:

"The horn used by Moses to call to gather the children of Israel while in the desert; a staff of the red hair which was the pride of Esau and the despair

of Jacob; a piece of the nail of the little toe of the left foot—the statement is very precise—of Enoch, the patriarch;

the bib worn by the infant Jesus; the emb and crupper of the ass that took the holy family into Egypt; and several relics of various saints.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Waste in Making Hay.

The loss of hay in this country from a failure on the part of farmers to respect to the use of proper implements is annually very large. Hay is a crop that must be mowed, cured and stored under many disadvantages and often in a very short period of time. Such work cannot always be done unless every appliance necessary for harvesting the crop is available. On farms where large crops are grown the mow, tedder and rake

add to the value of the hay by assisting to care it in a manner to preserve the whole of its nutritious matter. Properly cured hay is not found on all farms.

LADIES CAN POLL

Notice is hereby given that the Election to be held in and for the City of Benton Harbor, Michigan, on Tuesday, November 3, 1896, will be in session in the several wards of said city on Friday and Saturday, October 30 and 31, and on Monday, November 2, 1896,

as follows:

First ward—At Hall & Nichols' drug store on Pipestone street.

Second ward—At W. C. Hovey's carriage store on Pipestone street.

Third ward—At the city hall.

Fourth ward—At C. J. Brown's grocery on East Main street.

Said boards of Registration will be in session from 8 o'clock in the forenoon until 8 o'clock in the afternoon of said days.

As the law requires an entire new registration this year, every voter must appear before the Board of Registration

in his ward and have his name entered on the registration lists or he cannot vote at this election.

HOW SALT IS MINED.

METHODS EMPLOYED AT THE EXTEN-

SIVE WORKS IN MICHIGAN.

The Supply of Raw Material, Which is

Brine, is Practically Inexhaustible—The Industry has Grown Tremendously Since

1880, at Which Time It Really Began.

The existence of salt springs in the lower peninsula of Michigan was known to the Indians long prior to the advent of the white men in the country, and they were resorted to by both Indians and wild animals. So well known was this fact of the presence of salt springs that the general government made numerous reservations of lands which were supposed to contain salt deposits. By the act of admission of Michigan into the Union the state was authorized to select 72 sections of salt land, or land where the presence of saline springs indicated the occurrence of salt deposits.

On the organization of the geological survey the state geologist, Dr. Douglas Houghton, made an examination, with the view to the selection of these lands, and in 1889 reported the results of his observations. Still these examinations were limited to surface indications, and no extended experiments were made to probe the coast far below the surface.

However, borings were finally undertaken in several localities, resulting generally in such a good measure of success as to stimulate still further trials,

developing such gratifying results, especially in the Saginaw valley, that in 1890 the first company was organized for the manufacture of salt, since which time this industry has reached its present stupendous proportions adding greatly to the wealth and reputation of the state and especially to the growth of the cities and the region in which the business is carried on.

The origin of these deposits is not known. Whether the waters lying relate beneath the surface, derive their saline property there is an apparent want of determining, nor is the boundary of the surface known beneath which these deposits of brine may be found. The Michigan salt group has a wide extent
